ARCH BOODLER IS SOMEWHERE OUT OF REACH PROSECUTION TRAPPED

Makes Shamefaced Confession in Court That Their Main Actor Has Skiddooed.

(Special to The Tribune)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—The case of the Arch Boodler, a well-known actor, is being tried today.

When the actor made his confession in court, it was a surprise to the audience.

Most of them had been told by Judge Fowler that it was expected that the actor would make a confession.

GALLAGHER IS MISSING

What witnesses have to say to fear him, Mr. Heney, inquired Judge Fowler.

the carpet and Rudolph Spreckels and O'Gara acted as though they would be comfortable in most any place save that in which they were.

"Then you can give no assurance as to the exact time Mr. Gallagher will be here?" asked Judge Lawlor.

"No, your honor, I hope to reach him by telegraph, but I am not positive."

Honey then suggested that the case go over until Monday. Judge Lawlor declared that the only alternative would be the tentative selection of the jury without prejudice to the case, should it be found impossible to continue because of Gallagher's absence.

To this, Attorney Earl Rogers objected, and Judge Lawlor accordingly intimated that the continuance must be granted.

"We do not want it understood," declared Rogers, "that we consent to this continuance."

"Let the remarks of counsel be entered upon the records," was Judge Lawlor's reply.

PROSECUTION APPEARS TO BE TRAPPED.

Honey's explanation of Gallagher's absence is that the boulder had had for some time two round-trip tickets for the coast which were about to expire, and that he desired to use them. What Honey did not explain, however, is why he permitted Gallagher to depart.

It was the consensus of opinion in the court room that the prosecution had been trapped at their own game. The belief was freely expressed that Honey and Spreckels had confidently expected a mistrial in the Ford case and had hoped to re-try that case first, but their plans went a-glimmering, prior to the Ford verdict, had compelled them to disclose their hand.

"IT'S AN OUTRAGE," SAYS ROGERS.

"It's an outrage to have brought us here, knowing as they knew that the case could not be on," declared Attorney Earl Rogers. "We are ready to proceed. And we now learn that Gallagher has gone—Lord knows where. Of course, they'll get him," he added, sarcastically, "as Honey knows his route and Burns is still on earth."

The absence of Gallagher overshadowed all else at this morning's brief session of the trial and was the only theme of conversation after Judge Lawlor had formerly granted a continuance, having first called for the list of witnesses and having admonished the talesmen to adjust their affairs as to make their service on the panel possible. The list of witnesses practically includes all of those summoned at the trial of Tiley L. Ford. It included Ruef, whether or not he will testify was until this morning the burning question. The query which has succeeded and overshadowed it for the nonce is "Where, oh, where is Big Jim Gallagher and is he coming back?"

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 5.—The trial of Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, charged with having bribed ex-supervisor Thomas F. Loefer, was begun this morning before Judge Lawlor in Department 11 of the Superior Court.

CALHOUN COMES ALONE.

There appeared to have been some misunderstanding concerning the hour for the commencement of trial. It had been announced that the proceedings would begin at 9:30, but at that time there were but a few spectators in the vast auditorium of Temple Sheriff Israel, where the trial is being held.

At 9:50 Patrick Calhoun reached the courtroom alone. A few moments later Tom Gibson, now chief of the United Railroads' detective force, entered the temple and engaged in a brief but earnest conversation with Mr. Calhoun. The latter then occupied himself with the reading of a number of documents which Gibson had handed him. Between 9:30 and 10 o'clock the principals in what promises to be the most sensational trial of the season reached the courtroom.

SCHMITZ SHOWS WEARINESS.

Attorney Stanley Moore and Earl Rogers came in together and were cordially greeted by Mr. Calhoun, who had taken his seat in the second row from the front. A few moments later Eugene E. Schmitz, a companion by a deputy sheriff, entered the auditorium. Schmitz shows the effects of his long incarceration in the county jail, and he looked weary and nervous. The judge declared that not alone was his business so urgent as to make his attendance on court a hard one, but that he was so tired that he held opinions which would prejudice his qualification as a juror.

Louis F. Rivington reached court at 10 o'clock closely followed by Francis J. Honey and William Burns, chief sleuth of the graft prosecution. Finally Attorney A. A. Moore arrived, and immediately became engrossed in conversation with Calhoun.

Famous Soprano Made Good Offer to Sing at Manhattan Opera House.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Cables from London announce that Madame Tetrazzini, the soprano, may appear at the Manhattan Opera House here next January. Oscar Hammerstein has renewed negotiations with her and offered her $3000 each for fifteen performances this winter.

In an interview she said the reason she refused Hammerstein's former proposition for her to sing in New York this winter was that she did not care to begin her engagement at the Manhattan until November, 1908, and she did not want to make a hurried trip to New York without larger pay than that specified in the three-year contract which Hammerstein offered her. Hammerstein then raised his figure to persuade her to come this season. She has not yet decided about acceptance.

her family, the headless girl received from her father, the brutal treatment received from Glover, and her present mental state. Walsh went into the acid throwing incident, but although he admitted that the defendant had put the acid in a glass, nothing was said of her having thrown it.

HONEY OBJECTS.

After Walsh finished reading the question objection was made by Honey. He argued that there were sections in the question which were not in accordance with the testimony. He objected to the introduction of the words of Glover where he is alleged to have said shortly before the acid throwing that he was going back to the state. Walsh attempted to show in his hypothetical question that the woman had been driven to insanity by the accumulated brutality of Glover.

Honey's objection was overruled after a long argument and Halsey answered:

"I think that this could be more than enough to render the patient temporarily insane. There is a lot of insanity in her family. If she were in a fit atmosphere this trial could have been over. But in the sphere in which the defendant lived this was impossible. Everything was against a complete recovery and the cruelties imposed on her were such as to make her insane."

How does aphasia affect the mind in regard to insanity, asked Walsh. Objection was sustained.

"What is aphasia?" Walsh questioned. "Aphasia is a disease of the brain which there is an impediment of certain parts of the brain," replied the witness. "From the evidence I have with the defendant what is your opinion regarding her mind?"

"I find she could not remember well could not remember dates. I found a mental deficiency," answered the alienist.

"What is mental deficiency?"

"A mental degeneration."

District Attorney Brown took the witness and questioned him along physiological lines.

PRISONER'S CONDITION.

The defense introduced expert testimony in the trial of Olive Scully yesterday afternoon to prove that the prisoner was insane when she threw the acid which killed Glover. Dr. S. H. Buteau, who has attended the defendant, was one of the witnesses called. He said that she would soon give birth to a child. He also testified that he had made a thorough examination of her mental condition and gave his opinion that she was a woman of weak mind.

Before Dr. Buteau was called Mrs. Jessie Westenburg took the stand. She was questioned by Attorney Allen.

"Did you at any time take a position at the Whittier Reform School?" "I did."

"What position did you hold?" "I was superintendent of the girls' department."

"Did you know the defendant there?" "Yes."

"What was her conduct?" Objection made and sustained.

"What was her appearance?" "She was just a little innocent girl in appearance, short hair and skirts above her shoes."

"What was her complexion?" "It was fair."

"While at school, what kind of girl was she as to her behavior?" Objection made and sustained.

"Did she have any peculiarity?" "She was given to giggling and laughing until she almost had hysterics."

"What was her character as to being good or bad?" Objection made and sustained.

"How old did she appear?" "About 14 years of age."

"What year did she go?" "In 1892."

Defense desired to show that the Scully woman was not a moral degenerate when admitted to Whittier. The line of questioning was not allowed, and the witness was excused.

SCARS ON HER HEAD.

Dr. S. H. Buteau questioned by Attorney Walsh for the defense.

"How long have you examined insane patients?" he was asked. "For eighteen years."

"Have you examined the defendant?" "I have."

"Did you examine her head?" "I did."

"What did you find?" "I found two pronounced scars."

Miss Scully was called and Dr. Buteau pointed out where the scars are.

"From those injuries on the head state what might result. Insanity, for example."

"Did you examine the brother and sister of the defendant?" "I did."

"What did you determine concerning their mental condition?"

Objection made at which Attorney Walsh replied that he intended to show that there was insanity in the defendant's family. In addition he would show that besides the hereditary taint she had been made worse by Glover and by the men with whom she had associated.

"If a parent were insane, is it likely that the oldest child, if he had children, would receive the taint?" "It is."

"Did you examine the brother and sister?" "I did."

"What did you find?" "They are a marked example of imbecility."

THINKS SUICIDES INSANE.

"What is the state of mind of a person who attempts suicide?" "I believe that every individual who honestly attempts suicide is insane."

Walsh went into the history of the defendant's past life. He spoke of her insane father, of her imbecile sister and brother, of her mother, who was burned to death in her presence, of her attempt to commit suicide at the age of 18 years and of the cruelties imposed upon her afterward.

DETECTIVE AND HIS FAIR COMPANION ARE FREED OF CHARGES; WOMAN WEEPS

HER ATTORNEYS TURN UPON COMPLAINING WITNESS

Accuses Him of Having Betrayed His Own Brother—Court Calls Halt.

There was an intensely dramatic scene in Judge Smith's department of the Police Court this morning during the preliminary examination of Peter F. Roller, detective and sanitary inspector, and Anita Forcades, better known as the common law wife of Lr. Harry Morton, on charges of grand larceny preferred against them by J. R. Morton, brother of Dr. Morton. Attorney Abe Leach, taking in hand the complaining witness, who was on the stand, accused him in a voice which could be heard in the corridors, of having lived with Anita Forcades, as his mistress, and generally introduced as his brother's wife. At that point the woman reeled in her chair, tears welled up in her eyes, and she would have fallen to the floor in a faint but for the timely arrival of a bystander with a glass of water. She soon recovered her composure, but only for the time being, for when, after a brief examination at the end of which the accused pair was exonerated and discharged, she came near fainting again and cried aloud. Court adjourned in confusion, the woman being assisted by friends into the office of the prosecuting attorney. Roller was surrounded by friends congratulating him. It was some time before the courtroom was cleared of the excited throng.

Calling Ruef as a Witness.

Swinging around the circle of the effete East, District Attorney Langdon says Ford will be tried again. "We will simply shift the cut and call Ruef as a witness," he is reported as saying. Why was Ruef not called in the two former trials of General Ford? In his argument to the jury that acquitted Ford, Heney said Ruef had not been called because the prosecution would not consent to grant him complete immunity. Does Langdon's announcement mean that Ruef is to be granted complete immunity if he will do his best to swear Tiry L. Ford into prison?

While making his virtuous statement to explain the failure to put Ruef on the stand, Mr. Heney compared himself and the "angel" of the prosecution to George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. Fancy George Washington or Abraham Lincoln offering a wretch like Ruef immunity from prosecution and punishment on condition that he swear away the liberty and reputation of a man like former Attorney-General Ford! Even if such a bargain did not smack strongly of subornation of perjury, it is revolting to justice and decency and outrages the law of compensation.

But despite Mr. Heney's assertion that the prosecution had refused to grant Ruef immunity, James L. Gallagher twice testified as a witness for the prosecution that Ruef was included in the general pardon issued to the hoodling Supervisors by Rudolph Spreckels. Attorney Hugh Owens, who represented in a legal capacity the hoodlums when the immunity contracts were drawn up, says the same thing. The statements of neither have been categorically denied by Spreckels and Heney.

In the Schmitz case Ruef said under cross-examination that he was testifying in the hope of immunity. In other words, he was trying to swear himself out of prison.

Did Gallagher, Owens and Ruef lie in this matter or did Mr. Heney deliberately try to deceive the Ford jury? Was he trying to conceal and deny an essential fact in his endeavor to secure a conviction? If he told the truth to the Ford jury—and it is a grave reproach to him if he did not—his chief witness Gallagher, whom no one credits with either truth or honor, falsely accused the prosecution of a shocking moral (if not criminal) offense. If he belied the prosecution in a matter so serious why should he be regarded as truthful in giving testimony against a man he was rewarded for helping to convict? And why did not Spreckels, Heney and Langdon indignantly repudiate the aspersion cast upon their motives and methods by the Michael Feeney of the graft regime?

If Ruef is now to be called, as Langdon states, will he appear on the stand as a witness whose testimony is purchased in advance with an immunity contract? If so, it is pertinent to inquire if the bargain it assumes to bind was concluded last April or May, as Gallagher and Owens allege, or since Tiry L. Ford was put upon his trial. This question involves not only the veracity and integrity of the prosecutions Mr. Spreckels is directing with agents of his own selection, but the decency and honesty of judicial process in this State. It puts in abeyance the innocence or guilt of the persons indicted by the advice of Mr. Heney on evidence supplied by private agents of Rudolph Spreckels and the band of criminal officials he has contracted to keep out of prison, and raises a far more momentous and fundamental question whether the whole machinery of the law, including the law itself, is not being corrupted and prostituted to purposes fully as sordid, and a thousand times more harmful, as the graft organization which the prosecution ostensibly set out to destroy.

Railroad Movements in Oakland.

The statement made by a San Francisco newspaper that the Western Pacific Railroad Company has entered into a trackage arrangement with the Southern Pacific Company for the joint use of the First street line and the abandonment of the Third street franchise by the Western proves erroneous. The former relates only to a mutual agreement concerning crossings. The Third street franchise is not to be abandoned under any consideration, nor is it to be diverted, in any sense, from the uses for which it was planned when the franchise was obtained.

Information has been given out from official sources that the Western Pacific's trains will be running over the Third street track within the year, by which time the road will be open to traffic as far north as Stockton, at least. Work is being rushed at the ferry terminal at the entrance to the harbor to be ready to receive traffic when the line is ready for operation.

There are strong indications that both corporations intend to employ electric motive power in the movement of passenger trains at least, and that each one will have separate tracks for carrying freight and passengers. Engineers are surveying the site of the big power plant on the East side of the North arm of the estuary owned by the Great Western Electric Light and Power Company, which is understood to be an auxiliary organization of the Western Pacific; while it is indicated by an announcement made by the Southern Pacific officials that the new Berkeley depot on Shattuck avenue is to be used for overland traffic, that the main passenger tracks will be carried through North Berkeley and electricity used as a motive power in the operation of passenger trains. The change in the character of the motive power was plainly outlined some weeks ago in the instructions given by Harriman to his electrical engineers to report on its feasibility.

This State is evidently destined within the year to be the scene of great railroad activity in the matter of new construction, reorganization of motive power plant and rivalry between the three corporations terminating in Oakland for business, all of which means greater prosperity for this city.

The Fresno-Kings county annexation election takes place next Tuesday. The issue affects the Coalinga and West Side districts, which the Hanford papers think will vote to join Kings. But the Fresno county anti-annexationists are canvassing the territory actively to defeat the measure, making all kinds of seductive promises. They were equally active, according to the Hanford Sentinel, to prevent the people from having a chance "for a free and untrammelled expression at the ballot box," but they were worsted in that fight, the Legislature passing the act authorizing the annexation election, and the prospects are that they will be on the losing side also next Tuesday.

There ought not to be anything embarrassing in the State Controller's notification to county treasurers that they must make their settlements with the State Treasurer on the dates provided for by law. They cannot be expected to do more than make a settlement on the amount of collections made in behalf of the State up to the dates named—nothing more. The State Controller cannot expect more.

Despotic Power Given by the Rules of the House to the Speaker

They had the usual mock war yesterday in the national House of Representatives over the despotic power given by the rules to the Speaker—and then proceeded to enact those rules with only one Republican vote in the negative. The Democratic vote in the negative do not count, since the Democrats, when in power enact precisely similar rules, and therefore their vote against them when out of power expresses nothing more than their natural desire to put the majority party out of power.

These rules provide for an absolute despotism, but it is a despotism self-imposed by its own victims. The members of Congress first by a unanimous party vote, re-elected the tyrant who ruled over them last Congress, and then, by equally unanimous vote, instruct and empower him to continue his tyranny for this Congress. There is nothing for him to do under the circumstances but to obey instructions. And there is really nothing for the victims to do but to issue those instructions.

Consider the situation. Here is a body of near four hundred members, supposed to represent the United States, but each one, in fact, representing his own district. Besides the measures of national importance, each member has bills for his own district or constituents aggregating often 25,000 in all. The longest session never reaches 250 working days which means that if the House considered and debated all these measures it would have to dispose of over 100 a day. The session is five hours, which would leave twenty bills an hour, or three minutes to a bill working all day, every day, on nothing else through the longest session. And on each of these bills at least one member wishes to speak for an hour and on many of them all 350 wish to speak two hours apiece. Allowing only ten hours to a bill, and few could be disposed of in that time if the House was left to itself it would take 2,500,000 hours, or 500,000 days equivalent at twenty-five working days a month, to 20,000 months or 1668 years and eight months, to dispose of the bills introduced in a single session. Obviously, not a thousandth part of the bills can be given this sort of consideration, and not a hundredth part can be considered at all. In such a pressure, nothing can get consideration unless somebody is behind it with a club, making it his one particular fight to get that thing up—Fresno Republican.

Standard Oil Crowd
Trying to Control the Money of the World

Some time since a rumor was afloat that the Standard Oil crowd was trying to capture the control of the Goldfield Consolidated. It is a far cry from New York to Nevada, and we were disposed to smile at the rumor as a modest exudation of hot air on the part of the over-enthusiastic atmosphere artists of Goldfield. We were well aware that Rockefeller never overlooked an opportunity of gobbling any new oil field that might come into existence, and of crushing to the wall the small operator or oil producer, but we did not look for him in Goldfield.

Men there have been who have sought to control the necessities of life, wheat, corn, barley and have gone broke in the attempt. There have been others who have fought for the control of copper and lead, and have secured it. The ambition of Rockefeller, Pierpont Morgan and the "system" is to control the money of the world. Not a long time since this would have been regarded as the dream of a philosopher's stone—the manufacturing of gold. Today it is not only a possibility, but the indications are that Rockefeller and his associates are intent upon the scheme, and with a very fair prospect of success.—Tonopah Bonanza.

The Country Demands
Its Brightest, Bravest
and Best Citizens

The year before us is going to witness a warm political battle. It is going to be the ambition of the Republican party to win out in this campaign as in the campaigns of the past, but we should so organize our forces that in case we get the game it will be worthy of the chase.

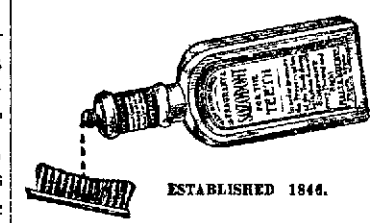

In the past there has been too much red fire and candles and rockets over party victories that should have been the occasion for the lowering of flags at half-mast and the hanging of crepe on the door of the capitol.

The country today demands, and has a right to demand the brightest and bravest and best in our ranks as leaders and law-makers. The citizen, the voter, demands that men be placed at the head of the government. Though we boast a population of 85,000,000, when you come to hunt for men to represent you, you are surprised that they are not found in every burg or on every bush.

There is no lack of material such as it is. The trouble in the past has been that good, honest, loyal, four-square men could not be elected. Men who stood for something versus the men who were snowed under.—Visalia Delta.

Nothing Political in Taft's Visit to the Czar at St. Petersburg

Whatever the foreign press may think of Secretary Taft's call upon the Russian emperor, the American people as a whole will continue to regard it as a purely perfunctory and social incident growing out of international good will. There is no reason why the peoples and the governments of the United States and of Japan and Russia should be other than friendly. The suggestion of an alliance, however, even with the friendliest of powers, is a thing apart from American traditions and policies. "Good will to all, entangling alliances with none," said Washington, and that has been the keynote of American policies toward the rest of the world. As well as we may think of our neighbors and as much as we may value their friendship and moral support, to enter into an actual alliance is incompatible with our habits and ideals. He would be a daring President who advocated such an alliance. It would be a revolutionary senate which confirmed any such treaty.—Louisville Courier Journal.

Calamities for Which President Roosevelt
Was Not Responsible

It was not Theodore Roosevelt who tried to finance the United Copper pool with other people's money, but the Heinzes.

It was not Theodore Roosevelt, but Heinze, Morse and Thomas whom an honest and indignant Clearing House committee had to scourge from the banking business.

It was not Theodore Roosevelt, but E. R. Thomas, whom Mr. Fleming forced to return to the Provident Life Assurance Society the money of the policy-holders which had been deposited in Thomas' banks for use in wildcat speculation.

It was not Theodore Roosevelt, but Thomas F. Ryan and associates who by a combination of stock-jobbing and grand larceny, wrecked the most profitable street railway system in the world.

It was not Theodore Roosevelt, but M. H. Harriman, who looted the Alton.

It was not Theodore Roosevelt who was responsible for a system of insurance corruption whose exposure shocked the whole civilized world, but men who never spent an hour in a cell as punishment for their offenses.

It is not Theodore Roosevelt who ought to be in Sing Sing for crimes and misdemeanors, yet it is Theodore Roosevelt who has been dealing in glittering generalities about corporation abuses when he should have been prosecuting individual offenders for violations of the law. This is a responsibility which the Governor of New York shares to a certain extent with the President.—New York World

President Roosevelt's
Latest Declaration
Regarding Nomination

President Roosevelt has just given out a new announcement and by some it is regarded as the most decided declaration that he will not be a candidate for the presidency, but with others it seems that it is an obvious amendment of his former declaration. On the night of his election to the presidency three years ago he said that he would not again accept the nomination or be a candidate for election to the presidency. In his latest announcement he says that he will not be a candidate for the nomination to be a candidate for the presidency. That evidently means what has been claimed all along that Roosevelt wants the nomination to come to him, unsought and in that event, he will accept it.—Graz Valley Union

Foraker's Nomination
Foreshadowed as a Democratic Triumph

The announcement of Senator Foraker that when the convention of the Republican party meets next year he will be a candidate for the presidential nomination can only result in one thing—some further embarrassment for the administration. His pronouncement can have no other purpose and Foraker himself can have no hope of winning that nomination. But should it be possible that the Ohio Senator conscientiously entertains the belief that he stands a chance of getting the nomination he cannot for a moment delude himself into believing that he would be successful at the polls. The American people are in no humor to tolerate the things that Foraker stands for, and the only chance of success there is for the Democrats with Bryan or some other equally forcible man at its head to achieve success, would be for the Republicans to make the mistake of nominating some reactionary of the calibre of Foraker.—Nevada City Miner-Transcript.

Congressman Hayes
Gets Some Plain Talk
From Speaker Cannon

"Uncle Joe" Cannon, who has just been unanimously re-elected Speaker of the House has a level head on his shoulders. When Congressman Hayes approached him on Saturday with his plan for a new navy yard within thirty miles of Mare Island Navy Yard, Speaker Cannon gave him, that which he seems to very much lack a piece of wisdom in the following words:

"That will make a big fuss in your delegation. Now don't stir up a fuss among yourselves. Get together and settle it among yourselves, and then bring it out before the rest of us."

That was plain talk to a plain man. And it means that Hayes will not get a navy yard to himself. Had he been fair to his fellow representatives he would have consulted and agreed with them before creating a lack of confidence that must rebound to his own injury.—Vallejo Chronicle

TELLS HOW TO STOP DISEASE

Dr. Long of U. S. Navy Gives Advice Against Spread of Infections.

Dr. Long, of the United States navy, who is in this city at the request of Mayor McCall, has been asked by the city Board of Health, to take charge of the sanitary work for the prevention of a spread of plague, has prepared a statement for the benefit of the public, entitled "Advice to Citizens," in which interesting methods of keeping down disease are outlined. Dr. Long said today that if citizens would carefully follow the advice laid down, there would be no reason to fear even the slightest spread of plague. There have been no new cases of plague reported since November 12, showing conditions to most favorable. The statement prepared by Dr. Long reads as follows:

ADVICE TO CITIZENS.

"Bubonic plague is a most infectious disease with a high mortality, which was introduced into the United States in the year 1906 from the Orient.

"As one citizen deeply into the subject is advised to read Manson's work on Tropical Diseases, Jackson's work on Tropical Diseases, or any standard work on the practice of medicine.

"The fact of most importance to the individual citizen is that the disease is transferred from rats to persons by means of fleas. Experience in various countries and in this country has shown that the disease can be kept under control unless rats are present in the community.

"This fact has been so well proven that the expression 'No rat no plague' may almost be considered an axiom. Consequently all measures which are taken to prevent the introduction of the disease into the community or to prevent the spread of the disease within the community lead with a sure step to the extermination of the rats.

"Wherever rats are found this statement may be accepted as true in almost any part of the world. While the country authorities are willing and anxious to do everything in their power to prevent the introduction of the disease, a little thought will demonstrate to any one that no matter how large a force the city and county authorities employ, that no satisfactory results can be obtained unless every individual in the community co-operates to the utmost extent.

MAKE RAT-PROOF.

"Owners and occupants of houses should see that their houses are made rat-proof. This is a comparatively easy task when building a new house; it is more difficult, however, where the house has already been constructed.

"In order to make the house rat-proof it is necessary that there be a cement floor, or the floor laid in cement in every portion of the cellar underneath the house; said floor to be joined to the foundation walls with an unbroken layer of cement.

"If the house is so constructed it is manifestly impossible for a rat to gain entrance by burrowing. The only other means of entrance left is through the windows or doors. If the windows are covered with a substantial wire screen of sufficiently fine mesh that rats cannot get through it, and if the doors are provided with spring hinges, the entrance of rats through the cellar may be almost entirely prevented.

"Furthermore, care should be taken that the point of entrance of all pipes, such as water pipes, gas pipes, sewer pipes, etc., should be protected by a metal collar and some firmly attached to the side of the house so that rats may not use these pipes as an avenue of entrance.

NO INDUCEMENTS.

"A house so constructed, or so repaired, will offer very little inducement to rats, and if by any accident rats should have gained entrance it is a comparatively easy matter to rid such a house of rats within a short space of time.

"Houses not having cellars should be built so that the lower floor will have an elevation of at least three feet above the surface of the ground. The foundation walls should have openings left in them so that dogs, or cats, if of need be, persons may gain easy access to the interior.

"Stables should be provided with cement floors. The flooring in the stalls being laid so as to give good drainage and a gutter made at the rear end of the stall which connects with the sewer or a drain. Stables should not have double walls in any part of them. Food troughs for animals should be made of cement, or if made of wood should be lined with metal, preferably galvanized iron or zinc.

"Each stable should be provided with a manure pit due to a convenient situation and should be lined with concrete, brick laid in mortar, and should have a tight cover lined with metal to the end that rats at any time may not gain entrance thereto. An adequate vent pipe should be provided and carried to a height above the eaves of the stable. In order that the gases caused by decomposition may be carried high above the building and may not cause a nuisance.

BINS FOR GRAIN.

"All corn, oats, wheat or grain should be contained in bins tightly lined with metal and provided with a tight lid also lined with metal, and should be kept closed at all times except when actually in use. If these precautions are taken and observed it can be accepted as the rule that rats will remain or breed in such stable.

"If not convenient to construct a manure pit of concrete or wood, a recognized substantial wooden box may be substituted therefor if the precaution is taken to line said box with metal, or to line it with concrete, or to line it with a material which rats cannot get through.

"As to other precautions that may be taken in and about houses and factories the following will probably be sufficient. All accumulations of rubbish, waste food matters, etc., should be kept in metal garbage boxes with tight metal covers and frequently emptied in some place where rats cannot gain access to them, or they should be buried or burned.

"All accumulations of rubbish, rags, waste paper, weeds, straw or vegetable matter, etc., should be removed from the premises and destroyed. The food in the kitchen and pantries should be kept in metal containers; this refers to food of all kinds.

"If evidence of rats are seen about the premises traps and poisons should be placed immediately in order to catch the rats before they can raise young rats. This is extremely important, for the reason that rats breed very rapidly, and female rats, under ordinary circumstances, give birth to fifty or sixty rats in a year.

"In a comparatively short space of time the young begin to have voice of their own, and it is not long before the number of rats down to the minimum, constant and unrelenting care is required.

"Rats will run, if their foot places are frequently disturbed, for the reason that they are afraid of the light, and they will run and they do from starvation.

"At first sight these measures would seem to be extremely expensive, but would seem to require a great deal of labor on the part of the individual householder, a little thought, however, will demonstrate that this is not true. The cleaning of the cellar, the removal of the floors and the cleaning up of the pantries, and the various other measures recommended to make the house rat-proof, it is true, cost a certain amount of money and a certain amount of labor, but these are permanent improvements, and consequently need be made only once.

"The only measures, such as the cleaning up of the garbage and other waste matters, and the prevention of the accumulation of such matters, which may require some time and labor, if the premises have been neglected for a considerable period of time, when the first thorough cleaning up has been completed from that time on, in the average household, it should not require more than one-half to three-quarters of an hour's labor each day to maintain the premises in a clean condition. And when the habit is once formed the work be-

TAKES TOO MUCH CHLOROFORM; DIES

Frank B. Hill, a retired mining man, fifty-seven years of age, died at 2 o'clock this morning at his home, 558 Thirtieth street, as the result of an overdose of chloroform taken at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. An inquest will be held. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

About two years ago, Hill was severely injured by the explosion of a gas meter and has since been in failing health, the accident having resulted in a complication of internal troubles. Intense pain accompanied his physical condition, and he has been addicted to the use of opiates to relieve his sufferings.

Yesterday morning he was in great distress, and swallowed a quantity of chloroform to act as a sedative. His weakened vitality made it impossible for him to overcome the effects of the drug and he succumbed some hours later despite the efforts of Drs. Porter and Khome to revive him.

Hill leaves a widow and four children, Helen, Catherine, Richard and Roland Hill.

Testimonials could be printed by the thousands, many of them from Oakland, and nearby towns, that Hyomel is an absolute cure for all catarrhal troubles, but the best proof of its unusual curative powers is its guarantee with every outfit, "Money back if Hyomel does not do all that is claimed for it."

Hyomel is not a secret remedy. Its formula is given freely to physicians who want to know what they use when they prescribe Hyomel. It is guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drug Law by serial No. 1418.

By breathing Hyomel, the healing medication goes directly to every nook and corner of the air passages where the catarrhal germs may lurk, and disinfests and heals.

There is no dangerous stomach drug, when Hyomel is used. Its healing medication is breathed through a little pocket inhaler a few times daily, and almost immediately a great improvement is noticed and quick recovery follows.

The complete Hyomel outfit costs but $1.00, and in most cases is sufficient to cure the disease, making it not only a scientific treatment, but one that is highly economical. Get an outfit today if you have any symptoms of catarrh, and see how quickly the remedy relieves and cures.

We positively guarantee Hyomel, for should it fail to completely cure, your money will be refunded. Hyomel is sold by druggists everywhere. Write for literature. Month's Hyomel Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

DEATHS DUE TO FINANCIAL FLURRY

Sudden Increase in Mortality in New York Ascribed to Money Panic.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—That a sudden increase in mortality in New York is due in part at least to the recent financial flurry is the opinion of Dr. William H. Guilfoyle, registrar of vital statistics. The record of the Health Department shows that 164 persons died of heart disease during the week ending November 30, an increase of 58 over the corresponding week last year. Many of these were people past 60 years of age.

DUE TO FLURRY.

"I ascribe the unusual mortality among aged people in New York to several causes," said Dr. Guilfoyle, "and the recent flurry in money matters is unquestionably accountable for part of the deaths. Many aged persons have their savings in banks, and such persons, if afflicted with chronic heart affection, would be very likely to hasten their death by worrying."

COLD WEATHER.

"Another cause is the sudden cold weather, which brings bronchial diseases and influenza. Persons past 70 years and infants under one year are always seriously affected by pulmonary diseases during the first cold weather. Influenza does not affect infants, but it causes many deaths among persons of advanced years. About 50 per cent of patients past 70 years die when attacked by pneumonia. This winter seems to bring a larger mortality of aged persons than usual, and there is little doubt that the anxiety of many persons of advanced years over their money has raised the death rate considerably."

Bodily Mixed Up.

Abraham Brown of Winterton, N. Y., had a very remarkable experience. He said: "Doctors got me mixed up one day, one day heart disease, two called it kidney trouble, the fourth blood poison, and the fifth stomach and liver trouble, but none of them helped me, so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters, which are a tonic to perfect health. After a few bottles I felt better than all the five doctors prescribed. Guaranteed for blood poison, weakness, and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints. CANADIAN OWNS BEST LIVE STOCK

American Breeders Lose Crown- ing Honor at Chicago Exposition.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Canada has secured the crowning honor of the International live stock exposition, defeating the American breeders on their grounds. The grand championship in the steer class goes to a Canadian exhibitor.

Roan King, a short-horn calf selected as the best of the huge herds of cattle assembled at the stock yards is owned by James Lusk, of Green Bank, Ontario. Weighs 305 pounds and was fed on a diet of peas and hay instead of the corn, which is the staple diet of American fancy kind.

Foreign Comment on President's Message

MESSAGE AS SEEN IN OTHER LANDS

Some Editors Are Impressed by Things Which Are Left Unsaid.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—Owing to its expected bearing on weighty questions like the financial crisis and the relation between the United States and Japan, the publication of the President's message was awaited here with unusual interest. Its length and the multiplicity of its topics covered seem however to have deterred the newspapers from taking any definite line in their comment.

The Daily Telegraph calls the message "prodigious review as exhaustively and picturesque as ever was devoted to the study of the whole material and moral situation of a people at one given moment."

The whole document, says the paper, is characterized by the fact that at a number of financial disaster and commercial depression it is dominated throughout by a tenderness and sympathy in its attitude upon the limited possibilities of American development.

The Standard and the Daily Mail find the chief interest in what the message leaves unsaid, namely the conflict between the federal government and the State of California, and the question of Japan's immigration.

The Daily Mail says: "If it is the case that a man cannot be settled by a single resolution, we should welcome the President's resignation. It is a philosophy that is not the case."

The Standard is much impressed with the President's message for its additions to the military as well as the naval forces and the special courtesy with which he treats Japan and China.

ABSENCE OF BOLDNESS
The Tribune and the Chicago Tribune find the absence of boldness in the President's message. The Tribune says: "The President's message is a masterpiece of moderation and a masterpiece of timidity."

The Times in its editorial considers the President's message as a masterpiece of moderation and a masterpiece of timidity. It regards as most important his four definite proposals—first, government inspection of industrial combinations; third, in company and inheritance tax; and fourth, extension of the ocean mail act.

IN PARIS
PARIS, Dec. 5.—The morning newspapers give prominence to President Roosevelt's message, but their comments are diverse. The Figaro considers that the message plainly shows that President Roosevelt has not changed one iota from his previous political and economic principles. It gives interesting praise to those parts of the message relating to the arms and navy.

The President places no faith, it says, in the enforcing the laws of the subject of the tariff and in the tariff law, and it is not a law, but a tariff law.

The Tribune on the other hand thinks the President has learned a lesson from the recent tariff law, and he seeks to secure public opinion in his favor, and in a tariff law.

The Socialist paper, L'Humanite, thinks the message in the most sincere manner, as a result of the tariff law, and in the tariff law.

The paper describes the reforms proposed in the message as follows: first, tariff law, and in the tariff law.

COMMENT IN JAPAN
TOKYO, Dec. 5.—The Asahi publishes a 1000 word article on the President's message, and comments thereon appreciatively, expressing gratification at the representations contained therein, one of the proposals is the extension of the tariff law, and in the tariff law.

The general feeling is toward Japan. It says the naval and military preparations guarantee the peace of the world. It says the President's message is a masterpiece of moderation and a masterpiece of timidity.

Other papers publish only a brief synopsis of the message, and so far refrain from editorial comment.

APPROVED BY BRYAN
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—William J. Bryan, in a letter to his home in Lincoln, Nebraska, arrived here yesterday from Washington and met his wife and daughter, who are bound for New York where the will sail for Europe Saturday.

Bryan commented on several of the messages and credited the President with introducing an original proposition in the tariff law, and in the tariff law.

He said the tariff law will be passed into law. He said the tariff law will be passed into law.

LAUNDRY COMPANY OUT $100,000 BY FIRE
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—The plant of the Domestic Laundry Company, 1548 South Central avenue, owned by the Mutual Laundry Company, was completely destroyed by fire yesterday evening, causing a loss of $100,000. Insurance was placed at $100,000.

KILLED BY PREMATURE DUMPING OF CARDIT
MARYSVILLE, Dec. 5.—A. J. Narmore of San Jose was killed by the premature dumping of a car of earth on the Western Pacific road a mile below Broadway, Oakland, Cal. He leaves a widow in San Jose.

POLICEMAN STUDIES AND SOON DIES OF BRAIN FOG

Spent Hour and a Half Every Night on Police Manual and Apoplexy Results.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 5.—Apoplexy brought on by the brain fog of poring over the police manual which the police board had ordered him to commit word for word within thirty days, cost Sergeant Anthony Connolly his life yesterday according to his friends.

After thirty years' service and at 32 years of age Sergeant Connolly was late into the night delving into the manual after having walked a beat all day.

Members of Sergeant Connolly's family say that during his study from September 12 until October 12, he never studied less than an hour and a half at home each night and also spent his time riding to and from the police station poring over the manual.

Two Are Tied in The Skating Race

Bleworth and Richardson are the leaders of the six day roller race and are now one lap and 100 yards ahead of Huff and Moore.

The last named was one of the front runners of the previous evening, but fell early in the race last night and lost a half lap and afterwards met with considerable interference in attempting to regain lost ground.

After fourteen minutes had elapsed he coasted again fell and allowed Huff and Moore to catch up with them.

newspapers around him at the foreign office the evening and made a statement regarding his mission abroad. He said that there were two classes of Japanese in America, day laborers of whom there were 15,000 and agriculturalists. It was against the immigration of the former that objection was raised. He had found that many of this class were desired by employers but others said their methods of life were objectionable.

The Japanese agriculturalists generally were successful. Baron Ishii described the existing economic conditions in America and explained the method of state self government in the United States. He said that between the trust and the labor unions the middle class of Americans and foreign laborers suffered. He said that union labor was largely controlled by unscrupulous persons, their attitude being almost that of tyrants and they were liable to destroy anything standing in their way.

Japanese engaged in agriculture as land owners or lessors said Baron Ishii, "require a few of the best class of their countrymen as laborers, but the government of Japan has been hindering the emigration of this class."

YAWN DISLOCATES MAN'S SHOULDER

Peddler Has Faculty of Jumping Bone Out on Place on All Occasions.

By stretching too hard Joseph Corbett, a peddler, dislocated his right shoulder this morning just after getting out of bed. Corbett, who lives at 652 Washington street, and hawks fruits for a living, went to bed late Tuesday night and was in no mood to arise this morning when he found how bleak the day was. But nevertheless called and after gingerly getting up he stretched himself at full length several times to get the tired feeling out of his system. It was while engaged in this exercise that he knocked his shoulder out of place.

SET SHOULDER OF TIMES. Corbett was taken to the Receiving Hospital where Dr. Kolford attended him. His is a peculiar case. Stewart Borchert said today that to his knowledge he has set Corbett's shoulder seven times. The man seems to have a knack of getting the shoulder out of place whenever he cares to do so according to the Steward. He says that he does not do it with any intention and cannot account for the accident.

SAYS HE IS ROBBED AS SALOON MAN LOOKS ON

(Special to The Tribune.) SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 4.—John Henakes, a laborer, living at 107 Silver street, reported to the police this morning that he had been assaulted and robbed by four men on Zoe street, near Bryant, at 1 o'clock this morning. Henakes says that he was approaching Dunne's saloon when four men came out of the door and while one of them hit him in the jaw with his fist two of the others went through his pockets, taking $3.00 in greenbacks. He says that all four men then returned to the saloon. The man claims that during the assault the bartender stood in the doorway and calmly watched the work of the robbers. Inquiry by the police this morning revealed the fact that Proprietor Dunne knows nothing of the affair, although he gave the names of four men who had been in the saloon during the evening.

was served at the bride's home. The rooms were decorated in the same color scheme as the church, white and green. There was one large table, seating twenty at which the bride sat. The other guests sat at smaller tables trimmed with red and pink roses.

The bride's gown was of white liberty satin with the bodice trimmed with duchess lace. A long veil fell over the train and was caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids.

In contrast to the pink and white scheme of last week's wedding, when Miss Sophie Boral became the bride of John Melgren Lewis, yesterday's shades were of delicate green and white. The gowns of the bridal party were all of white satin, excepting one, each bearing soft folds of pale green panne velvet over the shoulders. The matron of honor, Mrs. Bovet, wore an elaborate corset lace pattern robe over a slip of pale

Words of Praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Blatz" refers you.

It is safe to say that no product, of any kind, enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Blatz Beer of Milwaukee in markets where it is offered.

Its self-evident honesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

UNTIL THE END OF THE CONTEST,
WHEN THE WINNERS WILL BE AN-NOUNCED.

Thousands of votes are received each day, and many startling changes are being made in the standing of the various candidates. If the ballot box could tell its story, some of the candidates who are now so certain of winning would have heart failures.

The postal cards sent out to verify the new subscribers are being returned rapidly, and the votes given to the candidates are ascertained.

POPULAR WOMEN.
Mrs. J. P. Kingston is making a fine race for the lot to be given to the most popular woman. Mrs. Winnie Dorman and Mrs. W. T. Slater are also working very hard, and the contest in this district promises to be very close.

Miss Lillian Sullivan and Miss Hazel Reek are making a very close race for the $250 Chickering piano, and at present neither candidate has an advantage in the polling.

BERKELEY YOUNG LADIES.
The contest for the $500 Bruenn piano to be given to the most popular young lady in Berkeley promises to be very exciting at the close. Miss Sadie Weidinger, Miss Ethel Clark and Miss Olive Vore have been working hard and each one will have a large vote.

AUTOMOBILE CANDIDATES.
Miss Berdie Tibbets, J. T. Feeley and E. C. Hahn are making an exciting race for the automobile. All of these candidates are making daily gains, and the winner will be determined until the last vote is counted. The race for the automobile will probably be the closest in the whole contest, and the winning candidate will not have any votes to spare, whoever he or she may be.

and this city was broken, when a car driven by J. J. Fleming, Rudolph Habenicht and William Reuss reached the Bimble Baths yesterday
with a broken spring and was unable to proceed further. The run from San minutes better than the best previous time. In addition to this important event

Matt Harris, the swimming commissioner
of the club, has arranged a special match

George Bromley, the fastest swimmers
on the coast. They will be a quar-

WOODLAND WILL PLAY IN FINALS.
The Woodland High School football eleven is back in good standing in the Academic League, and will meet the winner of the Berkeley-Lick contest.
Woodland was in bad luck recently, but they satisfactorily explained their refusal to meet Lick.
The game in which Woodland will be one of the contestants will be played on the 14th of December.

At first the Academic League officials were inclined to drop the Woodland team from the series because of the refusal of the underdog school to meet the Lick eleven in a schedule game.

The manager of the Woodland football club declared that the schedule arranged by the league put Woodland at a big disadvantage and that his club had not been called upon to play two games as those arranged.

The matter has been settled, however, to the satisfaction of all concerned, and Woodland High school will line up against the winner of the Berkeley-Lick match at the baseball grounds in this city on the date named.

Drivers Make Fast Time to Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—The automobile record between San Francisco and this city was broken, when a car driven by J. J. Fleming, Rudolph Habenicht and William Reuss reached the Bimble Baths yesterday
with a broken spring and was unable to proceed further. The run from San Francisco, whence the machine departed last night at 10:30, was made in 17 hours and 55 minutes, which is 80
minutes better than the best previous
time. In addition to this important event
Matt Harris, the swimming commissioner
of the club, has arranged a special match at 100 yards between J. Scott Leary and George Bromley, the fastest swimmers
on the coast. They will be a quarter mile race in which the starters will be Tom Latine, W. Fomeroy, E. J. Dawson and H. Hynes.

Aquatic Sports Receive Boost

Aquatic sports on the coast, and especially in collegiate circles will get a big boost tomorrow night when a team from Stanford will meet a team from the University of California in the Olympic Club tank in San Francisco. Stanford will be represented by Bill Pemberton and Kenney Fenton, two stars of the gridiron, while William R. Wood and J.
Barry will represent the University of California. The distance will be 100 yards.
